

Umbra - by Khepri & Julia Black

The Night should close its eyes disturbing not my silence
Its darkest blood
would hypnotize my heart
The Hourglass of Life is running out of sand

How could I let you die
How could I survive
I'm cursed to live alone

I can feel my life is ending now
Poison tears are running through my veins
Before the dawn I'll be where I belong
For so long my love
I've been waiting here alone

The day you touched the sand of the Immortal Realm
I've been delivering myself to you
The Hourglass of Love is running out of dreams and time

How could I let you die
How could I survive
I'm cursed to live alone

I can feel my life is ending now
Poison tears are running through my veins
Before the dawn I'll be where I belong
For so long I've been waiting here alone

Umbra is my name and I'm your dark Queen
I was lost my love and sold my life for you
Now I'm here in our darkest heaven
I've sacrificed it all so never be alone
Umbra...